YALE MACHINERY IN WORK-ING ORDER.

Princeton Just Beats Dartmouth by Quar Field Goal; Cornell, Representing the East, Defeats Michigan
—Army Scored On Marvaled Losses.

Surprises and unusual happenings marked the campaign on the gridiron yesterday. Princeton's novel method of scoring a winning field goal after the ball had touched the ground is likely to furnish food for discussion for some time, but there is no likelihood of the score being disallowed. Harvard's experiment of starting the game against Cornell with a punt was a success, provided disastrous, and the entry of the Navy material came too late to exert detect.

The Yale machine was in working order and Brown never had a chance to score against the big Blue team. A ray of light tinged the toothball gloom which has hovered around Pennsylvania, for the Quakers easily disposed of Lafayette. Cornell presenting the east, though the Michigan host led by Harry Clegg lost. The Army was scored on for the first time this season, while the Navy rolled up a big score against West Virginia. Close and interesting contests marked most of the other engagements. The results follow.

Only Two Ships Against Lafayette and Quakers Win 23 to 6.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—Baring a couple of mistakes that gave Lafayette the upper hand on as many occasions, Pennsylvania played a strong game to day and won, 23 to 6. One of these misplays was made by the captain, the substitute quarterback, who used poor judgment in handling a punt, which allowed Lafayette to get possession of the ball, make a desperate dash, and score. When running with the ball, however, Dalton did as good work as he has ever done and dashed through the valiant efforts of the others who put up their feet. Dalton pointed from fifty to sixty-five yards on each try, placing the ball on the 25-yard line, and the spectators were astounded at his dash. The spectators were forty-eight German shipmates who are attached to the German training ship.

The lineup: Position: Left end, Captain; Left tackle, F. W. Davis; Left guard, J. E. Walsley; Left center, H. L. Thomas; Right guard, C. E. Lefebvre; Right center, G. D. Cook; Right tackle, J. C. Macdonald; Right halfback, G. D. Dodge; Right fullback, J. C. Brown; Safety, H. C.
